INJUNCTION IS FILED AGAINST FAUBUS

Blast Destroys Grade School At Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — A thunderous dynamite blast demolished a newly-integrated school here early today, climaxing a day and night of demonstrations and violence protesting racial mixing at the first-grade level. Police later arrested three white men sitting in a car near another of the seven Nashville grade schools that were integrated Monday. Officers said a dynamite was found in the car, which was parked in front of a school about an hour before school opening time.

The car was plastered with Ku Klux Klan signs. Inside, police found a billy club and machete — a large heavy knife of the variety used to chop through South American jungles. Seven persons demonstrating around other Nashville schools today were arrested for disorderly conduct. Scores of students stayed away from classes on this second day of the school year here.

Building Shattered
The half-million-dollar Hattie Cotton school, where one Negro child began attending classes Monday, was shattered at 12:45 a.m. by a dynamite explosion that left only the exterior walls standing. No one was injured but nearby residents were knocked from their beds and windows were blown out over an area of several blocks.

Police blocked off streets around most of the freshly-integrated Nashville schools as bewildered youngsters started another day of classes.

The three white men arrested for questioning in connection with the explosion at Hattie Cotton were picked up near the Fehr school, scene of most of Monday's integration turmoil.

Segregationist John Kasper, who has twice been convicted for interfering with integration at Clinton, Tenn., last year, was active at Fehr school Monday and he spoke to a segregation rally here Monday night.

Rope Off Scene
Police officials, angry over the early morning school bombing, roped off integrated elementary schools and others riding by in cars — nobody through the lines but the youngsters themselves. Even the parents accompanying them were turned back.

Four persons — some carrying signs and others riding by in cars — were arrested at the Glenn school, site of jeering and rock throwing Monday.

Some of the score of Negroes who began attending classes with white pupils Monday showed up for the second day of classes. But attendance of both whites and Negroes fell off sharply.

Many white parents who pulled their children out of classes Monday in a boycott movement kept them home again today.

At Jones school, Principal Kathryn Millsap said it looks as if "hardly any" children were attending classes in upper grades. In one first grade class where 23 students are registered, five had appeared by class opening time.

The blast followed angry demonstrations and rock throwing at six of the seven city schools where Negro children were admitted to the first grade on opening day. The incidents continued into the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Crouch Back From Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Fleetwood Crouch have returned from visiting their daughter, Mrs. Tom Bell and family, of Buffalo, New York. They made the trip with Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Crouch and a family of Los Cruces, New Mexico.

Dr. Crouch attended a national mathematics meeting at Penn State College, Pennsylvania.

Princeton Youths Killed In Wreck

CADIZ — Three Princeton youths were killed early today and two others injured in a car-truck collision in Trigg County near Cerulean on Ky. 124.

The car, which police said apparently was going at high speeds, traveled 180 feet after the collision, went over a 20-foot embankment and overturned in a shallow creek.

The dead were identified as: Randall Stalling, 25, Jennings M. Brown, 22, and Charles T. Salyers, 18, all of Princeton. Injured were C. W. Salyers, Edward J. Jackson, 21, driver of the car.

They were taken to War Memorial Hospital, Princeton, where their condition was not believed serious.

The occupants of the truck, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Parrish, of Princeton, were not injured. The truck was knocked 80 feet from the point of impact and caught fire.

Stalling and Brown died of crushed skulls and Charles T. Salyers died of "multiple injuries." The young men and the Parrishes all were en route to Princeton.

American Reds Drop In Numbers

NEW YORK — Discontent and dissension have sharply reduced membership and caused a crisis in the American Communist Party, the editor of the Daily Worker said Monday.

John Gates, editor-in-chief of the Daily Worker, the Communist Party's U.S. membership declined by 45 per cent in the last year. National party officials confirmed the sharp drop, saying the party lost 7,000 members during the past year.

The present membership, a spokesman said, stands at 10,000, the lowest figure since 1931 when there were 8,000 members.

The high point in U.S. membership was reached in 1945, at the end of World War II, when American Communists claimed 80,000 members.

Gates, in an article in today's Daily Worker, said it was difficult to analyze the "fundamental causes" of the membership decline. But he hinted dissension within the party along with membership discontent with party methods were largely responsible for the drop.

Gates' statement was, in effect, a reply to one published in the Daily Worker Monday by Joseph Clark, announcing his resignation as the newspaper's foreign editor and from party membership. Clark, a Communist for 28 years, openly admitted his disillusionment with the American Communist Party. He said the U.S. party persisted in following Soviet foreign policy and no longer was serving the cause of socialism effectively in the United States.

Gates indicated he agreed with many of the ideas expressed by Clark in his letter of resignation.

Circuit Court Session Begins

The September term of Calloway Circuit Court is underway at the Calloway County Courthouse with Judge H. H. Lovett, Sr. presiding.

Yesterday the jurors were summoned to the Circuit Court room where the Grand and Petit juries were selected.

The docket was set up by Judge Lovett and lawyers handling the various cases. The first two weeks of court are expected to be light.

The Grand Jury was sworn in and they set about their duties yesterday. They are expected to complete their work in about four days and will report to Judge Lovett on Thursday.

2200-2400 Students To Enroll At MSC

Murray State College is expecting its fourth consecutive record enrollment Sept. 18 when registration for the 1957-58 school year begins.

Officials at the college have estimated that from 2200-2400 students will enroll. Enrollment last year was 2094.

Dormitories will open for students Tuesday, Sept. 17, and a pre-registration meeting for freshmen will be that night at 7 o'clock. This meeting has been called extremely important by the registrar.

Registration, enrollment, and physical examinations for all students will begin Wednesday.

Trips for the MSC band will begin Monday, Sept. 16. However, all candidates are expected to be on the campus Sunday night to meet the new band director, Paul Shahan, who is replacing Richard Farrell, now head of the Fine Arts Department at Murray.

Racial Judge

FEDERAL District Judge Ronald N. Davies of Little Rock, Ark., may be asked to issue a federal injunction against Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas, ordering the governor not to interfere with racial integration at Little Rock's Central High school. An injunction would be a result of Faubus' use of National Guardsmen to prevent Negroes from entering the high school.

Weather Much More Humid Monday
By UNITED PRESS
The weather was much more humid Monday, averaging 75 to 80 per cent in the west and 60 to 75 per cent elsewhere. Rainfall was mostly light during the day although the Campbellsville Experimental Farm superintendent measured more than an inch by evening.

Heavier rain was reported Monday night from Louisville eastward through the Blue Grass. Louisville recorded more than one and one-half inches by 3 a.m. today and Lexington received over one-half inch in one hour early today.

The area of heavier rain is working north and no significant rain is expected today through the western or southern sections of Kentucky. Rainfall in the north and central sections should taper off during the day, becoming light and scattered by afternoon.

The general circulation still is expected to favor some showers in the state tonight and Wednesday although it is difficult to indicate their probability or the most likely areas in which they will occur.

Western Kentucky — Mostly cloudy and mild today with some scattered light rain but no appreciable amounts expected. High 73 to 78, partly cloudy and continued mild tonight and Wednesday with a few showers likely. Low tonight 60 to 65, high Wednesday 77 to 82. Humidity should be low in the western part of the state, averaging near 70 per cent over the next 24 hours. South central and southern sections should average 65 to 70 per cent.

Barns should be opened during the day, agronomists at the University of Kentucky advised.

First Meeting Hazel P-TA Is Thursday
The first meeting of the Hazel P-TA will be held Thursday night, September 12 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be a potluck supper. All members are asked to bring their families and a basket lunch.

Petition Could Bring Arkansas Chief Into Open Court Finally

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — The federal government's patience ran out on Gov. Orval E. Faubus today and the Justice Department filed an injunction petition against him for his continued defiance of school integration orders.

The petition, which could eventually bring Faubus into open court, was requested Monday by U. S. District Judge Ronald A. Davies. The judge is expected to issue an order in the case soon.

The action, which must travel through legal court processes, came too late to give Negroes a chance to enroll in a controversial high school here this semester.

The Justice Department asked for both temporary and permanent injunctions against Faubus, state adjutant general who is commander of the National Guard and Lt. Col. Marion T. Johnson, unit commander of guard troops.

Faubus has used to prevent integration of Central High School.

Faubus, who claims "the peace and prevent violence" has not disclosed whether he will willingly accept a suit from the government.

The Justice Department petition did not request a temporary restraining order against the governor, apparently dismissing the chance for an early court showdown between the government and the Arkansas state officials.

President Eisenhower, gravely worried over the trouble in Arkansas, chose an avenue of patient waiting in hopes the situation would clear up in Little Rock without the necessity for drastic federal measures.

Davies was expected to set a hearing date for sometime next week on the government's petition.

The fall term started last Tuesday and likely will be far along before the government's injunctive process have moved through the courts.

With the filing of court action, tension at the schools involved went down quickly. It was almost like a normal day at the Little Rock High, after a brief period of tension at the school where six Negroes tried to enroll Monday, and at Little Rock's Central High.

Faubus said today (on NBC's "Today" television program) he has a "strong feeling" Davies was sent to Little Rock specifically to handle the school case.

But the governor said evidence he gave the FBI concerning his reasons for calling out the guard were sufficient to convince "any prudent, reasonable man" he was in the right.

Action against the governor, who has ignored court orders to integrate "forthwith," will come from U. S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies on a signal from the Justice Department in Washington.

The actual injunction was drawn up in Little Rock and was ready for service with arrival of a formal application this morning from Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. 1 Corinthians 2:9.

Paul was permitted a glimpse of some of the higher realms. He was not sure whether it was a vision or whether his bodily presence ascended into heaven. But of one thing he was utterly sure: the heavenly state passes all understanding or experience.

Sarni Still Hitless But He Is Lucky

NEW YORK — Talk about slumps. Bill Sarni of the Giants hasn't gotten a single hit this season but he still considers himself the happiest guy alive. Sarni's active major league career ended abruptly when he suffered a heart attack last Feb. 25 during the club's first day of spring training at Phoenix, Ariz. The 29-year-old ex-catcher convalesced at his St. Louis home until Aug. 21 when he rejoined the Giants as a coach.

"Some people may feel sorry for me," offered the good-looking, dark-haired Sarni. "But I consider myself the luckiest guy in the world just being around the boys again and getting a chance to remain in baseball. Sarni, who figured to be the Giants' first-string catcher this year, glanced at the catcher's mitt in his locker and smiled wryly.

"All I ever use it for now is a little easy toss," he said. "I've thought about catching again but I came to realize there were two important factors to be considered.

"First, I have a responsibility to my family, my wife and my little boy and girl.

"Second, who would sign me to play? They'd be taking a big chance. The Giants have been wonderful to me. After all, I was a stranger to them and they had no real obligation to give me a job as coach."

Yanks Take No Chances, Add Cub Outfielder

By MILTON RICHMAN

United Press Sports Writer

The Yankees never take any chances, so even with a fat 5 1/2 game lead and Mickey Mantle back in uniform, they bought a bit of added pennant insurance today by acquiring outfielder Bobby Del Greco from the Chicago Cubs.

Mantle, feeling "much better" after a four-day stay in the hospital because of shin splints, was given the green light to play against Cleveland tonight if he wants, and he indicated he would. He still trails ailing Ted Williams in the fight for the batting crown, 389 to 378.

Although Hank Bauer, recovering from a broken bone in his right thumb, also may be ready to face the Indians, the Yankees felt they could use another experienced outfielder for the stretch run. Hence, the purchase of the 24-year-old Del Greco from the Cubs.

The chunky, right-handed hitting outfielder spent most of the current season with Montreal of the International League, from where the Cubs recalled him Monday. He had a .278 batting average that included seven home runs in 118 games with the Royals.

Shortly after the Cubs brought him up, the Yankees offered an unspecified sum of cash plus a player to be delivered next year and the deal was made.

"Worst Deal" Recalled
Del Greco may be remembered as one of the central figures in what General Manager Frank Lane calls "the worst deal" ever made. Lane and Cardinal manager Fred Hutchinson personally scouted Del Greco one day while he still was with Pittsburgh and saw him connect for two homers.

The Cardinal pair was so favorably impressed that they dealt off Bill Virdon to the Pirates in exchange for Del Greco, May 16, 1956. But Del Greco failed to hit for the Cards and they traded him to the Cubs for outfielder Jim King last April. Shortly afterward, the Cubs sent him down.

"He's young, though, and he could help us the next few weeks," explained a Yankee spokesman.

In any case, the Yankees, with 16 games remaining take on the western invaders for the last time this season. Right-handed Bob Turley, the world champs' most consistent pitcher recently, will face southpaw Don Mossi of the Tribe tonight.

After tonight's game and one Wednesday with Cleveland, the Yanks will have a first-hand opportunity to widen their lead against the second-place Chicago White Sox, whom they meet Friday and Saturday.

Braves At Home
Casey Stengel said lefty Bobby Shantz will pitch against Cleveland Wednesday and that it will be Whitey Ford and Tom Sturdivant against the White Sox. Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan are Al Lopez' nominees to go against the Yankees.

Over in the National League, where the Milwaukee Braves also have a 5 1/2-game lead, they face the happy prospect of playing 15 of their 18 remaining games at home.

Pittsburgh supplies Milwaukee's opposition tonight, with rookie Whammy Douglas of the Pirates slated to face Lew Burdette. The second-place Cardinals, at home against the Phillies, will send Sam Jones against Harvey Haddix, while the third-place Dodgers, seven games back but still hoping for a miracle, have nominated left-handed Sandy Koufax to oppose Don Elston of the Cubs at Chicago.

The Giants are at Cincinnati in the other scheduled NL game. No major league games were played Monday.

Telephone Talk

by F. H. RIDDLE
Your Telephone Manager

BACK-TO-SCHOOL! If you have youngsters attending college this fall, I'd like to remind you of a nice way to keep in touch with them. You know, keeping up home ties is mighty important especially for first-year students. So let me suggest you arrange for your son or daughter to call you station-to-station at a regular time each week. It's fast, and saves you up to 1/2 the cost of a person-to-person call between points in Kentucky. For instance, you can call station-to-station from Murray to Louisville, for just 75¢—half the person-to-person rate. And nights and Sundays you can talk four minutes station-to-station for the same two-minute daytime rate. Why not arrange now for regular voice visits by Long Distance?

HERE'S A TIP for homemakers around town who'd like to take the "run" out of running the home. You know, easy living calls for telephones where they are needed most—phones in smart decorator colors to add touches of beauty. Well, we have a plan to tailor your telephone service to your personal needs, to make it even more a part of good living. Whether you have four rooms or eight, one of these plans will give the ideal telephone arrangement for your family. And the beauty about it is, you can actually have several extra phones for less additional cost than you pay for the main telephone! If you'd like to know more about tailor-made telephone service, give us a ring.

Look First in the Yellow Pages

It's a mighty busy time for us all, getting the kids ready for school, buying clothes, supplies, fixing up the house and yard for winter. But wait—you don't have to wear yourself out and run all over town. Just do as thousands of other smart shoppers do and turn to the Yellow Pages of your telephone book. Makes shopping a breeze, saves you time, gives you satisfaction. Remember—whatever you need you'll find it fast in the Yellow Pages.
